iment is under orders to proceed to the na-ital, but it is probable that, owing to the re-greatest excitement and enthusiasm during the whole of yesterday, consequent upon so many armories being in the building. From an early hour in the morning the spacious drill room of the Fighth regiment (Washington Grays) was one continuous scene of bustle and activity, occasioned by the expected departure of the regiment and its call for volunteers, which, indeed, was nobly re-sponded to. In several parts of the room could be seen an officer, with a bench or table for a desk, surrounded by growds of men and hove, anyiously availing their, then to give in their names. Se great was the rush to join this regiment, which fought so nobly at the battle of Bull run, that not less than 800 persons were turned away in consequence of the regiment being recruited to the standard allowed. It is confidently stated by the recruiting officers that fifteen hundred men could be onlisted ment would have left yesterday evening for the seat or war, and this was the occasion of bringing hundreds or people to Broadway to witness their departure; but, in consequence of an order received late in the afternoon from the War Department, that no regiment would be al-lowed to march until mustered into the service, they were of course disappointed.

It is expected, however, that the regiment will be able to take its departure to-day.

The regiment will depart for Washington at five e'clock this afternoon. The following special order has been the effect that this regiment were not to receive their uniforms until further notice. The regiment were fully prepared to start for Washington in the afternoon, and only awaited their uniforms to be in full marching order. The order referred to, therefore, fell on them like a thunder clap, and they did not know what to make out of it. A proper requisition, signed by Colonel Bliss, was duly deposited with the United States Quartermasters at eight o'clock in the morning, and Colonel Bliss stated positively to Quartermaster Rocsevelt, of the Seventy-first, that he would furnish the necessary uniforms in time to enable the regiment to move that evening. Colonel Vinton, Assistant Quartermaster General, says that, in view of the order from Washington, he caunot furnish uniforms until the men are mustered into the service formally. This being the state of things, the Seventy-first did not get away last night, and cannot possibly leave till some time this evening.

The following supplemental order has been issued by

Colonel Martin:—

Seventy-first Regiment, American Guard,
Commandants of companies will make their companies estity-four privates, four corporals and five sergents, with Captain, First and Second Lieutenants, and no more, as there may not be arms and equipments sufficient for a larger force. If we need more men after we arrive in Washington, we can send on for those aircady recruited. Commandants of companies will see that the men pack in the krupsack the shirts, drawers, shoes, knife, fork, spoon, cup, plate, ac., that they receive, and they will wear their own. The overconts will be worn on the back, and blankets strapped on the knapsack. The officers of the regiment will meet at the Regimental Armsry at 12 o'clock M., for the election of Major. Yesterday Governor Morgan telegraphed to the various points in this State to ascertain the condition of the State militia, with a view to going to Washington forthwith. This was in response to a call from the federal government for troops.

The military authorities of the State of Massachusetts are desirous of passing their troops to the seat of war with as little publicity as possible. Colonel Howe, their agent in this city, has received positive orders to withhold all information on the subject from the repre-England troops from appearing in the newspapers. Our reporters found out, on visiting the Jersey City Railroad depot yesterday, that the Thirty-second regiment Massachusetts Volunteers, Colonel Parker commanding, arrived there about nine o'clock yesterday morning in the Fall River boat from Boston.

After a delay of about thirty minutes, they took the cars and proceeded to the seat of war. Several other bodies of troops are expected to pass through this city during the next few days, and Colonel Howe has written to the State authorities for permission to give publicity honor of the State he represents.

The letter of Governor Andrew is universally condemned by the masses of the people. They dislike the Governor's insinuations that the citizens of Massachu-setts are conditionally loyal. The Boston press, without an exception, condemns it. In fact, no one here approves the letter except the worshippers of Garrison, sent the people is plainly evident by the rapid emist-ments and prompt response to the call for more troops. ABSACHURETTS UNCONDITIONALLY LOYAL.

Governor Andrew has probably seen occasion to change the optain of the loyality of Massachusetts which she intimused in his descricts to the Secretary of War. At all exacts in the Secretary of War. At all exacts in the Secretary of War. At all exacts in the Secretary of War. At all exacts of the President to suctain General Huster, the Governor of the loyalist yesterday morning to call upon the mean of Massachuseits to defend their government, appealing solely to their patriotism, irrespective of their years of policy. And we do not learn that the people yound to ask whether the House or Senate Cunfactation full was most likely to pass, or whether negroes were to be armed or emancipation declared by proclamstion. In fact, they seem to have responded to the call as if they felt no draft upon their patriotism whatever. Hustreming of TROOPS IN BOSTON.

The call of devertors Andraw, issued yesterday morning to the militia and volunteers not in actual service, showed that notwithstanding the many calls on her patriotism within the year past, Massachuseits still responds quickly and cheerfully to the call for men was sent by telegraph to all the newspapers in the Blate, and in some cases the beauty of the colock, the drist company, the National Guard, acoust the colock, the drist company, the National Guard, and the colock and the store of the bill.

those wishing to enise in their transfer of the conce. Major Newton will join the battalion in New York.

Altogether nearly a thousand Massachusetts men left yesterday for Washington, and companies are constantly arriving from all parts of the State. Several new regiments are in project, and but a few days will be required to raise a large force in response to the government call. Quite a number of the soldiers were in the streets last night, rather noisy, but not seriously disorderly. The Common presented a lively appearance all day, and will probably be filled to-day, as not nearly all the militia of the State have yet reported themselves.

RESPONSE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The Call for Three Months' Men Coun-

The Philadelphia City Councils on the War.

PHILDELPHA, May 27, 1862.
A special meeting of the Select Council was held to day, at the request of the Committee on the Defence and day, at the request of the Committee on the Defence and Protection of the City, to consider business arising out of the call of the government of the United States and of the State, for the services of additional troops from Philadelphia. Mr. Wetherell, Chairman of the Committee on Pofence, &c., offered a resolution directing the City Comtroller to countersign all warrantal drawn by the Mayor, in pursuance of the order of the Committee on Defence. This was for the purpose of properly equip. ping the Home Guard for active service. Objection was ping the Home Guard for active service. Objection was made to giving such wholesale power to the committee, and a warm debate ensued. Finally the resolution was postponed till Thursday. Mr. Wetherell thereupon pre-sented his resignation.
